TURKEY

To be safe, it is best to avoid giving your pet turkey.

Turkey Skin is high in fat, which can cause pancreatitis, and seasoning, which can give your animal indigestion.

Poultry Bones are brittle and can easily break, lodging in your pet's throat.

POISONOUS FOODS

Additional Poisonous Foods to Watch Out For

Yeast Dough | Raisins or Grapes | Onions | Chocolate
Xylitol | Pie Filling | Raw Eggs or Meat | Alcohol

GUESTS

Instruct your guests not to feed your pets food from the table!

PUMPKIN

Pure, canned pumpkin (not pie filling) is a low-calorie, nutrient-packed treat that is filling and tasty!

DECOR

Keep your pet away from floral arrangements, potpourri, candles, and other potential dangers.

Keep your pet safe and away from the dining table, kitchen and garbage bins!
